Infinite Possibilities

At first glance she appears to be another unpleasant, rugged structure. However, one can observe her features best lying upon a concrete slab whilst lights shine upon her smooth, sharp edges and coarse yet gentle features. But open her up and see the real beauty.

The halls resemble veins and arteries, with thousands of cells pumping through every which direction. They work marvelously to increase productivity within the whole structure. Each cell works diligently to improve itself and the whole being.

Similarly to the outside, the inside is not without flaw. Clots may form in the arteries, seizing bloodflow to the organs and tissues. White blood cells are immediately dispatched to the afflicted area, neutralizing the threat to the otherwise peaceful structure. The blocked cells continue from where they left off, coursing through the veins, eager to rush back to their respective cavities to breathe life back into the derelict organs.

Her heart works unyieldingly. It not only directs all the blood cells within her structure, but it preserves them and reveals new passages to explore in order to enrich themselves and broaden the basicskills of her system.

The brain refines those skills and integrates them into the whole of her being. In unison with the heart, the brain strengthens her body in order to keep her structure at peak physical and mental health. With her strong heart and capable brain, she uses her expertise to benefit all her surrounding peers and community.

After what appears to be a lifetime of labor, the cells wither away. The old cells are promptly replaced by new, young cells. Each new cell presents an original and unique skill to her body while the old cells move onto something different yet familiar. Bringing their own perspective into a new world of infinite possibilities.

“A True Leader…
Has the confidence to stand alone, the courage to make tough decisions and the compassion to listen to the needs of others. One does not set out to be a leader, but becomes one by the quality of their actions and the integrity of their intent. In the end, leaders are like eagles…they don’t flock, you find them one at a time.”

Crown Point
crownpoint.in.gov
The city of Crown Point is host to great neighborhoods, restaurants and schools, all reflected in the friendly, small-town atmosphere.
Situated in a downtown area known as “the Square,” the city’s historical courthouse is a point of pride for residents and a fun attraction for visitors. It houses many unique shops, as does the Square itself, where charming storefronts line the sidewalks.
Its tree-lined streets and appealing downtown are idyllic, but what really makes it special are the people who live there. “We’re honored to win this award for another year,” says Mayor Dave Uran. “It all has to do with the residents who work here, live here, and play here.”
The City does its best to promote a family feel, providing free programming throughout the year that brings people together.
